

Promotion and dissemination of information on antiaging research through cross-disciplinary collaboration –medicine, pharmacy, welfare, food, and agriculture– (Director/Prof. Toshio MORIKAWA, morikawa@kindai.ac.jp)

Research Area

1. Search for biological aging markers
2. Exploring the seeds to take countermeasure for aging
3. Elucidation of the mechanisms of aging and development of its treatment
4. Development of dietary supplements in accordance with health claims labeling system
5. Planning and development of antiaging bento boxes
6. Dissemination of antiaging information by hosting public lecture and health sports event
7. Implementation of a variety of initiatives in preparation for 2025 Osaka Expo

Recent Activities

- Search for functional substances in edible plant resources and their future possibilities: body fat reducing effect of rose hip. JATAFF Journal, 10(3): 43–47 (2022).
- Functional and Applications of Spices and Herbs. CMC Publishing Co., Ltd. (Tokyo, Japan), 2020 [ISBN978-4-7813-1521-8].